

POTATO HILL
POETRY

Where Writing Comes From

a Workshop on Teaching Writing and Poetry

With Author and Poet George Ella Lyon

For teachers of grades 1-8, reading specialists, librarians, special educators and administrators.

POTATO HILL POETRY presents George Ella Lyon

Award-winning author and poet, George Ella Lyon travels the country conducting workshops and presentations on teaching writing and poetry. Born and raised in the mountains of Kentucky, Lyon has published two collections of poems, nineteen picture books (including Come a Tide, featured on Reading Rainbow and One Lucky Girl); three novels for young readers; an autobiography and numerous others. Her work appears in the PBS series, The United States of Poetry.

Let LYON help you put a roar into your writing classroom

Questions that will be addressed:

- How do I connect the literature I'm teaching with classroom writing?
- How do I create a writing-centered classroom?
- How do I use details to improve revision?
- How do I help students discover the wealth of their own material?
- How do I put the fun back in writing fundamentals?
- How do I help my students develop fluency as writers?
- How do I make individual conferences more productive?

Here's what past participants have said:

"Excellent Workshop! Great ideas to use in the classroom. And my kids loved her books."
Judy Mattingly, Elementary School Teacher

"Wonderful, wonderful, wonderful! I thoroughly enjoyed this day. I am taking home so many great writing tools not only for poetry, but for other forms as well."
Robin Davidson, Middle School Teacher

"George Ella Lyon is wonderful! Anyone who gets the chance to attend a workshop being presented by her should jump at the opportunity."
Kelly Duncan, Elementary School Teacher

Excellent presentation appropriate to all levels. Well worth writing sub-plans for.
Peggy Sheer, Elementary School Teacher

"Wonderful, wonderful, wonderful!"
